

Open and Distance Learning (FOAD)

In 2010, there were over 43,000 registrations for at least one distance learning course unit.

Course materials, educational activities and personal guidance are offered to students, who can choose a distance learning or a combination approach, depending on their goals and limitations.

The quality of the educational programmes specially designed for distance learning and digital exchange tools help students pursuing their education through the FOAD to achieve the same success rates on exams as students who take courses on-site.

"Theory and practice,
at the same time."

Franck, 39 year old Mechanical engineering student